Proceedings of Commissioner's Court yesterday.

JUDGES AND CLERKS NAMED

Road Districts Changed—Public Printing Awarded—Program of Work Nearly Completed—Court Adjourns to January 24th.

The county commissioners yesterday morning took up the matter of county roads, and concluded to so change the district boundaries as to effect a considerable increase in the sum obtained by special, or district taxation, the chief advantage gained in the change being applicable to the general improvement of the big Nehalem-Astoria highway. The changes made were as follows: The road district No. 13 at Jewell was enlarged so that it now consist of 5 1/2 townships or about 198 square miles and estimating on a special levy of 10 mills about $8000 will be raised each year. The district was enlarged by adding the two south tiers of sections from district No. 12, by adding one section from the east side of district No. 13 and adding all of township 6, north range 8 west and the south six sections of township 7, north range 8 west from district No. 7. This makes the district extend from the Ness place on the Nehalem road to the south line of the county. Other changes made were to add to district No. 12 at Vesper the three south tiers of sections in district No. 11 and to add to district No. 14 at Push, nine sections taken from the west side of the Elsie district or No. 13.

Bids for printing the proceedings of the county, for the year 1906 were opened at 3 o'clock, the hour fixed for this purpose; two bids were in evidence, and both were accepted; that of the Morning Astorian and that of the Daily Budget.

It was ordered that Dr. J. A. Fulton be retained for the coming year, as overseer of the county poor, at the figures paid for previous service in this relation.

The court named the following judges and clerks of election, for the year 1906 at, and for, the various precincts in the County of Clatsop:

Must Declare Intention.—A decision of the district attorney gives minors of foreign birth the right to procure fishing licenses, after they have declared their intention of becoming citizens of the United States. The matter arose over the question as to whether a minor of foreign birth could procure a license, in view of the fact that the law requires that all applicants for licenses to fish must be residents of the state. The attorney holds that if the minor signifies his intention to become a citizen it would give him the right to procure his license. Regarding the optometry law, wherein it says that the applicant must file his certificate with the county clerk and also post the certificate in the office, the attorney decided that the applicant shall be given his certificate to post in the office.
